Section 2 of the guide: A bank account in Dubai: possible without a visa, but know what you get

Without residency

Written by Usama Haj Yahia, founder of U810 Properties | Last updated: 08.10.2026

- Only a few banks open accounts for non-residents, and these are usually savings or deposit accounts.
- They require a high minimum balance, usually tens of thousands of dirhams, and sometimes much more.
- You need to visit a branch in person.
- Approval can take from three weeks to six months.
- Without an Emirates ID, you will not receive a cheque book or a debit card.

The full guide on the site: u810properties.com/en-guide-bank-account

What do you plan to do with the account?

Tell me, and we will see what suits you best.

Send a WhatsApp message →

This is general information, correct as of the update date. Each bank sets its own terms, so check with the bank before you go.