Section 2 of the guide: Dubai Golden Visa and tax residency: why a visa does not change your tax position

How your home country decides

Written by Usama Haj Yahia, founder of U810 Properties | Last updated: 18.11.2026

Each country has its own test for who is a tax resident. Tests can look at the number of days you spend in the country, and at ties such as your home, your family and your work. The UAE test below is one example of this. Ask an accountant in your country what the test is there, and what happens if you move abroad.

The full guide on the site: u810properties.com/en-guide-golden-visa-tax

Do you have a Golden Visa, or are you considering one?

Tell me about your situation, and we will check together what the visa gives you and what is important to ask the accountant.

Send a WhatsApp message →

This information is general, based on publications of the UAE Federal Tax Authority, and correct as of the update date. The section for tax residents of Israel is based on the Income Tax Ordinance and on the text of the treaty published by the Israeli Ministry of Finance. It is not tax advice and is not a substitute for an accountant or tax adviser. U810 is not an accountant or a tax adviser.