Section 6 of the guide: Inheriting property in Dubai: wills, heirs, and what to arrange when you buy

Your country of residence: tax on inheritance and on income

Written by Usama Haj Yahia, founder of U810 Properties | Last updated: 18.11.2026

- Whether inheriting the property is taxed depends on the law in your country of residence. Check this with an accountant there.
- Income from the property may also be taxed there. An heir who rents out the property, or later sells it, may need to report the rental income and the gain from the sale in their country of residence (see "Do I need to report the property in my country of residence?").
- The calculation itself is done with an accountant. I am not an accountant or a lawyer, and the information here is general.

The full guide on the site: u810properties.com/en-guide-inheritance

Do you have a question about inheriting property in Dubai?

If you want to arrange a will, I connect you with a lawyer.

Send a WhatsApp message →

The information is general and correct as of the update date. It is not legal advice or tax advice. For a will and inheritance planning you need a lawyer licensed in the UAE, and a lawyer in your country of residence.