What I check when I guide you

I have guided resale purchases of ready apartments too, not only off-plan purchases. In a resale transaction I go through the Title Deed, the developer's NOC and the service charge status with the investor, check whether there is a tenant and what the tenant's contract says, arrange a professional property inspection when needed, and make sure the Form F addendum covers what matters to the investor before a deposit is given. After the first consultation call I can give you a quote. It depends on the sale process and the services you need.
